It's funny how so many complain in general about Ford/ Motorcraft brake parts. The reason they are having a bad experience is because dealers like to stock the cheapest version to appeal to the broadest customer base. In reality, there are at least 4 different performance levels of Motorcraft brake parts offered for most models and they all come in the same Ford box. For example:

- Ford OE Spec is best (BRF & BRRF prefix)
- Retail Spec is mid range (BR & BRR prefix)
- High Level Aftermarket Spec is aftermarket quality (NBR & NBRR prefix)
- Severe Duty (also called Super Duty) which are semi-metallic and will squeak and/or squeal (BRSD prefix)

You must know what these prefix letters mean so you get exactly the performance level you want. Hope this helps! Ford Motor Company #ford #fordtrucks #fordf150 #f150 #automotive #brake #repair #mechanic #shoplife #bsgautomotive
